We live and serve in anxious times amidst a multitude of internal and external voices that define what success looks like in our ministries. It is easy to lose our first love and find ourselves struggling with all the voices telling us that we fall short. The Daring Way™ process helps us peel back the layers and understand what happens to us as leaders and goes on to point a way forward where we can engage our work and lives with our whole heart.

We will wrap this experience in prayer and community, as we find our way forward together. Due to the nature of the work we will do, this event is alcohol-free. We also ask that participants be present for the entire event—we are unable to accommodate late arrival and early departure.

Facilitated by the Rev. Karla Woggon and the Rev. Cynthia Banks, both Certified Daring Way Facilitators.

The Rev. Cynthia Banks serves as Rector at St. Luke's Episcopal Church, Boone, NC. Ordained in 1994, Cyndi has served a range of churches in small town, rural, and urban areas, finding her way to Boone in 2004. Cyndi is married, the mother of a teenager, stepmother to a grown son, and is obsessed with golf. "Brené Brown's work has set my leadership free like nothing else I've learned, increasing my capacity to take risks and find my way through tough places."

The Rev. Karla Woggon serves as the Rector of The Episcopal Church of the Ascension in Hickory, NC. Ordained in 1995, she has served parishes in the Diocese of Louisiana and Washington D.C. and was delighted to return to her home diocese of Western North Carolina in 2007. Karla is married and has two adult step children. She loves hiking, backpacking, sea kayaking, and just being in the wilderness any chance she gets. "Brené Brown's work has helped me find the courage to say yes and live brave even while I'm shaking in my boots. Her work has unleashed new passion in my personal and professional life."
